

APPLICATION AND SPECIAL LICENSE AGREEMENT

This Application and Special License Agreement (“Agreement”) is established by SEPM (Society for Sedimentary Geology) (“SEPM”) for Special Licensees who desire to utilize the copyrighted content of SEPM Publications for Permitted Uses, as defined herein.

I. APPLICATION

The undersigned SEPM Member Applicant or Company applies for a Special License under the terms of this Agreement.

Please fill in the following information:

1. Will this be an application for an SEPM Individual Consultant Membership or for an SEPM Company Membership?

a. Individual Consultant _____

b. Company _____

2. Full legal name of Applicant: _____

3. Full Legal Name of Company (if applicable): _____

a. Total Number of geoscientists _____

b. Total Number of that will utilize this license _____

4. Please provide a physical address, telephone number and an e-mail address for the Applicant:

Address: _____

Telephone: _____

E-mail: _____

5. Please indicate below whether the Applicant is a current member SEPM and the membership number:

YES ___ NO ___

If YES, Membership Number _____

6. Please list any proposed use of SEPM content outside of those listed in this application.

II. TERMS OF SPECIAL LICENSE FOR PERMITTED USE OF SEPM PUBLICATIONS

The following terms and conditions apply to the Special License for Permitted Use of SEPM Publications.

1. Duration. The Special License is for a term of one (1) year from January 1 to December 31 to coincide with applicants Society membership with approval of the Application and payment of the Fee. The Special License will terminate prior to the end of the term in the event the Special Licensee uses SEPM Publications for a Non-permitted Use.
2. Scope. The Special License covers SEPM Publications in existence online at www.sepmonline.org on the effective date of the Special License and any made available online during the license period. A Special Licensee may renew their Special License on an annual basis as part of their Society membership renewal.
3. Fee. The fee for the Special License is set forth in paragraph 8 below. The fee must be paid in full before the Special License is effective.
4. SEPM Publications. SEPM Publications are publications of SEPM copyrighted content from 1927 to the year of the Special License that are made accessible at www.sepmonline.org. All such online SEPM publications are identified as “© <applicable year> SEPM (Society of Sedimentary Geology).”
5. License for SEPM Publications. The Special License covers the use of (i) figures, images and tables from SEPM Publications and (ii) quoted text (identified by using quotations), without alteration of the original text in any manner, of up to one hundred (100) consecutive words maximum from SEPM Publications. No more than 20% of a publication (article or book chapter) may be quoted in a product. All SEPM Publications used must be identified as copyrighted SEPM Publications, including appropriate citations to the source, including notation of the SEPM Special License#.
6. Permitted Use. The following are each a Permitted Use of licensed SEPM Publications:
 - A. Use of SEPM Publications in presentations to clients or prospective clients, which does not include transfer to or permission for the clients or prospective clients to reuse such presentations.
 - B. Use of SEPM Publications in commercial reports which are solely for the use of the business of the Special Licensee.
 - C. Use of SEPM Publications in training materials for the business of the Special Licensee. Including:
 - a. Presentations as part of training lectures.
 - b. Hard Copy handouts that include SEPM content.
 - c. Electronic (digital) handouts that include SEPM content, with digital security.
 - D. Use to republish SEPM Publications content in scholarly journals.
7. Non-Permitted Use. The following are each, a Non-Permitted Use:
 - A. Use of content included in an SEPM Publication for which the copyright is held by a party other than SEPM. SEPM Publications identify content for which a party other than SEPM holds the copyright. Any questions on this contact SEPM.

- B. Use of copyrighted materials published by an SEPM Section, e.g., the Gulf Coast Section of SEPM. Section publications are not SEPM Publications.
- C. Entire articles or entire chapters within an SEPM Publication (such as a book or journal). Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Special Licensee may seek permission to use materials beyond the 100-word and 20% limitations of the Special License described in paragraph 5 above, which permission may be refused in the sole discretion of SEPM.
- D. Compiling any SEPM Publication content into a database as a (i) reference for use by the Special Licensee's employees or for the Special Licensee's use beyond the term of the Special License, (ii) commercial product for use by a client or any third party other than the Special Licensee, and (iii) as training content for any type of AI ("artificial intelligence") application or use. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Special Licensee may seek to obtain permission from SEPM for AI use, which permission may be refused in the sole discretion of SEPM.
- E. Any document that is created for a client cannot be shared to others by the client.

8. Fees. Fees for the Special License are as follows:

(see Exhibit A)

The SEPM Member Applicant agrees to the terms and conditions of the Special License Agreement.

DATED this ___ day of _____, 202__.

By: _____

List of other consultancy members who would be utilizing this license, if any:

The requested Special License is hereby approved under the terms and conditions of the Special License Agreement and the identification for this Special License is Special License # SEPM _____.

DATED this ___ day of _____, 202__.

SEPM (SOCIETY FOR SEDIMENTARY GEOLOGY)

By: _____

Its: _____

Exhibit A. Special License Fee Schedule

	Number of Employees Utilizing License	Special License Fee
Consultancy with	1	$1,000
Consultancy with	2	$1,500
Consultancy with	3	$2,250
Consultancy with	4	$3,000
Consultancy with	5	$3,500
Consultancy with	>5	Contact SEPM